

Collection, use and storage of personal data

By sending the data via the app you are consenting to storage for purposes of establishing contact as well as passing on the information sent (personal data as well as error descriptions, graphical material, etc.) to EMCO-TEST as well as establishing telephone or e-mail contact by an employee or service partner of EMCO-TEST.

Storage and further processing of the transmitted data occurs exclusively for specific purposes.

EMCO-TEST or a service partner contracted by EMCO-TEST use your personal data exclusively for purposes of responding to your request of EMCO-TEST and contacting you as necessary.

Safety

The transmission of your personal data is encrypted with industry-standard secure socket layer ("SSL") technology (SSL encryption).

Revocation, amendments, revisions

You always have the right to receive information on request free of charge about your personal data that have been stored. You also have the right to correct any incorrect data as well as to lock or delete your personal data.
